

Paul Rouse,
University of Auckland,
Associate Professor,
Accounting and Finance

- Associate-Professor of Management Accounting at The University of Auckland
- Chartered Accountant and member of the Operational Research Society of NZ
- PhD at Auckland in 1997 on performance measurement using Data Envelopment Analysis applied to highway management, nursing productivity and airline engineering services.
- substantial commercial experience
 - 13 years international experience including Coopers and Lybrand, London Guildhall University, Ladbroke's and Courage Breweries.
 - In New Zealand Union Shipping, Henderson and Pollard and the Auckland Hospital Board.
- Since 1999 worked with National Pricing Project and work around the tertiary allocation for District Health Boards.
 - Also cost system comparisons between NZ and UK
 - Current work on cost of immunisations
- Published numerous articles in international journals and presented research papers at international conferences and invited seminars at other universities. In recent years, performance measurement, DEA, DRG costs and tertiary hospitals have been the subject of his research.
- Currently supervising six PhD students with topics in secondary school performance, implementing e-learning in organisations, and performance measurement and management control in aged care provision.