Auckland City Hospital's new car park opens

Auckland City Hospital's new parking building has opened, providing 400 new parking spaces and improved facilities for visitors and patients.

The six-level parking building is part of a $15 million development designed by Ignite Architects and constructed by Mainzeal in consultation with a range of stakeholders including Auckland Council and the Grafton Residents' Association.

It includes an entire level of shops and cafes facing Park Rd and provides more parking on-site for staff.

The existing car park at Starship Children's Health will become mostly staff car parking – of the 400 existing spaces, 100 will be available for visitors to Starship and 300 will be for staff.

All visitors to Auckland City Hospital can access the new car park from Park Rd, with pedestrian access to the hospital via a walkway through to the Level 5 Galleria.
